ITW SEXTON EXECUTIVE ADDRESSES INDIA TRADE GROUP

DECATUR, ALABAMA, USA, 11 January 2012 – Yuriy Wowczuk, general manager of ITW Sexton, a world leader in the production of refrigerant and high-pressure aerosol cans, recently announced his company's entry to the Indian market with a presentation to the Aerosol Promotion Council (APC) in Mumbai titled High-Pressure Aerosol Containers: An Overview. Representatives of western India's leading aerosol manufacturers attended the event. ITW Sexton will work with APC to stimulate demand for its two-piece specialty aerosol cans which are used in a variety of manufacturing and consumer applications. Ashish Badjatia will manage ITW Sexton's sales and marketing activities throughout India.

"ITW Sexton is an outstanding company that APC welcomes to India," says

Bhogilal (B.L.) Patel, APC's president. "The quality of their refrigerant and high-pressure aerosol cans, and extraordinary level of technical knowledge should benefit our industry. All of us in APC look forward to working with ITW Sexton."

Mr. Wowczuk's presentation focused on the history of two-piece can-making, as well as engineering and manufacturing considerations, and the benefits of ITW Sexton's processes which allow the company's products to achieve specific height, diameter and wall thickness characteristics. On the regulatory front, he explained a variety of U.S. Department of Transportation requirements. (more)
